

The Do Not Call Registry should remain.
There is no reason that telemarketers should be permitted to intrude to a person's home at any time.